

Festivals Media & Press Events All Europe Countries Croatia Open Call

European Festival of Journalism and Media Literacy 2025: Voices in Zagreb

CREATIVESUNITE

Co-funded by the European Union

The European Festival of Journalism and Media Literacy 2025 returns for its second edition in Zagreb from 27 February to 1 March 2025. The event will bring together journalists, media professionals, students, and citizens to explore the critical role of journalism in shaping informed societies and combating disinformation.

Dates: 27 February – 1 March 2025
Location: Zagreb, Croatia
Who It's For: Journalists, media professionals, students, and the general public

Register here.

About the Festival

The Voices Festival is an itinerant initiative designed to connect diverse European communities while promoting media literacy and press freedom. Following its first edition in Florence in 2024, which gathered over 1,300 participants, the festival now heads to Zagreb for three days of discussions, interactive workshops, exhibitions, and networking opportunities.

The event tackles pressing issues in today's media landscape, including:
- Artificial intelligence and journalism
- Disinformation and elections' integrity
- Journalistic safety and press freedom
- Challenges in media economic models

- Media literacy and digital well-being

Read the full 3-day festival programme here.

By bringing together experts and the public, Voices fosters meaningful conversations on the power of journalism, the responsibility of the media, and the importance of critical thinking in an age of misinformation.

Why "Voices"?

A voice represents an opinion, participation, and representation. Voices Festival embraces pluralism, offering multiple perspectives on the role of journalism in our societies. It is a collective effort—created by and for those who believe in the power of informed storytelling.

To read more and register for the event please visit Voices' official website.

Image credit: Voices