A Union of Equality Event: Disability Rights and Strategies

CREATIVESUNITE

Co-funded by the European Union

The European Commission is organising a seminar on examples of how to reach equality by using strategies to realize the rights of persons with disabilities.

People with disabilities have the right to participate in society on equal terms with others. People's different backgrounds or abilities should not be decisive for such participation. Disability policy aims to create pre-conditions for inclusion and the realisation of human rights of all persons with disabilities.

In order to highlight and raise awareness of the EU strategy for the rights of persons with disability, as well as other disability strategies from EU Member States and to facilitate the important exchange of knowledge and experiences, the Swedish government is organising a seminar on disability policy during the Swedish Presidency of the Council of the European Union 2023. This seminar is co-hosted with the European Commision and takes place back to back to the Disability platform.

In this seminar, examples of policy frameworks as well as practical solutions on how to improve equality will be presented and discussed. Methods for including persons with disability in the development processes of all matters that concern them will also be highlighted.

Event: 27 June 2023 in Brussels and online
