Be part of the European Year of Skills Festival

CREATIVESUNITE

Co-funded by the European Union

The European Year of Skills is inviting you to share your experience on training projects and take part in the European Year of Skills Festival.

Fantastic stories of people who received training and improved their life conditions are everywhere around Europe. These stories inspire other people to enrol in training opportunities.

Are you part of one of these great stories? Do you know about projects that trained citizens with skills that changed their futures?

The European Year of Skills wants to hear your experiences and let you take part in the European Year of Skills Festival on 9 May 2023.

Some selected video stories will be showcased during the Festival on 9 May and promoted in the European Year of Skills Website.

How to participate

- Post your video with your story on a Twitter account with the hashtag #EuropeanYearOfSkills.
- The European Year of Skills will regularly check the hashtag #EuropeanYearOfSkills. Those accounts with videos and stories considered more relevant and engaging will be contacted via a direct message on Twitter with further instructions.
- The video must be horizontal and last maximum 1 minute.
- The Twitter account where the video is posted must be “public”.
- Follow the @EU_Social twitter account to receive a direct message from us in case of selection.
- Videos without the hashtag #EuropeanYearOfSkills won’t be considered.
- The video can be self-recorded or made with a support.

Content posted after that date could still be selected to feature on the European Year of Skills website.

Deadline: 20 April 2023
