

Festivals Audiovisual - Film, TV & Radio All Europe Countries International Open Call

Cannes Makers 2025 Training for Future Film Industry Leaders

CREATIVESUNITE

Co-funded by the European Union

Cannes Makers invites young film professionals to apply for its immersive training and mentoring program. This unique initiative aims to develop the next generation of global sales leaders by offering direct engagement with industry experts and deep insights into the film sales process.

Deadline for applications: February 24, 2025

Organizer: Marché du Film, Creative Europe MEDIA
Who It's For: Film professionals, students, and interns under 30 pursuing careers in sales, distribution, or marketing

Apply here.

About Cannes Makers

Launched in 2023, Cannes Makers is an innovative program hosted by the Marché du Film and supported by Creative Europe MEDIA. This training experience provides young, aspiring film professionals with a comprehensive understanding of international film sales.

The program targets key areas such as:

- The full journey of a film, from script to screen
- Cross-border collaboration and vocational skill development
- Engaging with leaders in film sales, distribution, and marketing
- Exploring industry issues like diversity, representation, and sustainability

Learning Objectives:

- Master the international film sales process
- Develop industry connections and collaboration opportunities
- Participate in discussions on key challenges and trends shaping the film industry

Eligibility

This open call is for young film professionals under 30 who are pursuing careers in: International sales, Distribution, Marketing

For more information and to apply please visit Marché du Film's official website.