

Literature & Books | Funding | All Europe Countries

Creative Europe | Open Call funding for literary translations

Applications are open until the 7th of March 2023.

Eligibility

With a budget of €5 million, this call will support projects that will translate, publish, distribute, promote a package of minimum 5 works of fiction (novels, poetry, comics etc.).

Interested organisations can apply as an individual applicant or as member of a consortium of a minimum of 2 eligible organisations.

Applicants can apply with projects of different sizes with a different ceiling for the number of books translated and funding received.

- Small-scale projects: Projects proposing translation of up to 10 different books can receive up to 100.000 EURO.
- Medium-scale: Projects proposing translation of up to 20 different books can receive up to 200.000 EURO.
- Large scale: Projects proposing translation of at least 21 different books can receive up to 300.000 EURO.

Considering the exceptional circumstances of the Russian war on Ukraine, projects with the objective of providing European or Ukrainian books in Ukrainian language to Ukrainian refugees and displaced people will be encouraged. In this regard, the printing, distribution and promotion of European or Ukrainian works of fiction in Ukrainian will be eligible. These projects should still satisfy the general eligibility conditions and include at least 5 translations.

Deadline: 7 March 2023

Find more information here.