About the residency

Curator-in-residence programme, hosted by Culture Hub Croatia in their creative hub Prostor (Split), is a month-long programme open for international curators, with specific emphasis on emerging and mid-career curators. The aim of the programme is to contribute to the internationalization of the local art scene, by provoking it and empowering it at the same time, and bringing different and innovative perspectives. The curator applies with a project that corresponds to the theme of Unknown, a term that can be explored from any given perspective, and can be focused on objects, sites or time. At least one public event (exhibition, talk, workshop) is required to be produced as the outcome of the proposed research project.

The selected curator will spend 4 weeks in Split, undertaking research and making connections and exchanges with the local community and art scene, through organized networking sessions and studio visits and by participating in public events, with the opportunity to organize a public event.

What is included?

- travel costs up to 300 eur
- accommodation in the Prostor residency space
- use of studio and coworking space
- stipend of 900 EUR to cover food and daily costs
- production budget of up to 1000 EUR for the exhibition/public event
- mentoring
- technical support

The shortlisted candidates will be invited for an interview.
The results of the selection will be published by September 1st.
