Europa Nostra: European Cultural Heritage Summit 2024

This year's European Cultural Heritage Summit 2024 will take place from October 6 to 8 in Bucharest, Romania. This annual gathering of cultural heritage stakeholders from across Europe will spotlight the political, environmental, and societal value of cultural heritage in Europe.

The European Cultural Heritage Summit, organized by Europa Nostra and co-funded by the European Union, will be hosted for the first time in Romania, a country recognized for its dedication to preserving and promoting shared cultural heritage.

The 2024 edition will celebrate the remarkable rehabilitation projects of the Saxon Church in Alma Vii, Transylvania, and St. Michael's Church in Cluj-Napoca, among the 26 winners of the European Heritage Awards / Europa Nostra Awards. These winners will be honored during the European Heritage Awards Ceremony, set to take place at the iconic Romanian Athenaeum.

Key events at the Summit will include the European Heritage Excellence Day, where attendees will have the opportunity to engage directly with the award winners and learn about the best heritage practices from across Europe. The European Heritage Policy Agora will bring together heritage professionals, civil society representatives, academic researchers, and policymakers to discuss the concept of quality in heritage preservation, with a focus on addressing the climate crisis and enhancing skills and capacity building.

Additionally, the second European Heritage Hub Forum, organized by the Europeana Foundation, will focus on the impact of digital transformation on cultural heritage, exploring how advancements in technology, particularly AI, can be harnessed to protect and transmit Europe's shared heritage to future generations.

The Summit will also feature two partner events: a Round Table Discussion on the expectations of Romanian cultural heritage civil society from public authorities, and a Youth Forum organized by the European Students' Association for Cultural Heritage (ESACH) in partnership with Europa Nostra.

Registration for the European Cultural Heritage Summit 2024 is open until September 25, 2024. For more information and to view the full program, please visit the Europa Nostra website.
