European Dancehouse Network | How Can We Move?

November 14, 2022

Ecological Perspectives on Contemporary Dance.

EDN is organising an online conference to which artists, cultural practitioners, academics, and local and international policy makers are invited. The conference on 14 November between 10:00 and 13:00 will coincide with the release and public presentation of EDN's upcoming research publication. Register by 10 November 2022.

About

How can we move? This question is a common thread running through EDN's 2022 activities. The conference will bring together conversations, thoughts, and actions around the theme of ecological sustainability. The annual online closing event on November 14, 2022, titled "How Can We Move? Ecological Perspectives on Contemporary Dance," will bring together participants from within and outside the network and the sector, address burning issues for the sector and for society and culture more broadly, and present the results of all annual project activities.

EDN invites you, dance practitioners & professionals, policy makers, and dance lovers, to participate in an online conference designed to get us moving - right in front of our screens and toward a more sustainable future.

Register by 10 November 2022

Registration is open to artists, cultural professionals, academics, and local and international decision makers. Registered participants will receive a Zoom link to the email address they provide on 11 November 2022 from info@ednetwork.eu (please check Spam, Junk or other folders).
