"Express your artistic freedom on a residency at the Amalfi coast"

"Marea Art Project residencies offer space for contemporary artistic creation on the Amalfi coast."

Marea Art Project is the new project of Italian and international artistic residencies on the Amalfi coast, declared a UNESCO World Heritage Site in 1997.

Marea Art Project was born as an opportunity for dialogue and expansion of the views on the coast, which from a place of temporary use, returns to being a dynamic space for contemporary artistic creation.

Over the centuries, intellectuals and artists lived on the Amalfi coast, fascinated by its sublime beauty, letting themselves be inspired by the encounter with artisans, ceramists, and artists.

Marea Art Project intends to reactivate this process, positioning the Amalfi coast as a widespread center of contemporary international research and experimentation.

Who is it for?

Marea Art Project is aimed at professionals in the visual arts, dance, music, cinema, literature, theater, and other disciplines such as anthropology, philosophy, architecture, design, fashion, science.

The artists in residence will be able to live and deepen their research in old houses in the villages of Praiano or Positano, letting themselves be inspired by the ever-changing atmospheres of the sea and the coast and of the De Li Galli Island, Punta Campanella, and the Faraglioni of Capri.

The project wants to allow living and visiting the coast in an alternative way to the tourist one, in periods of less congestion, letting everyone to know and frequent an otherwise prohibitive territory.

Participation in the residency is by invitation, but open to considering applications that have financial coverage.
