

Events Funding All Europe Countries Creative Europe Community Creative Europe Community

Funding the Arts: Designing a Creative Europe Proposal

Join "Funding the Arts," an online training course designed to guide performing arts and arts education organizations through crafting successful Creative Europe cooperation proposals. This course offers practical strategies, hands-on learning, and one-on-one support to help participants develop compelling applications.

Deadline for registration: December 13, 2024

Course Dates: December 18, 2024–January 31, 2025

Organizers: RESEO, Materahub

Who is it for: Performing arts and arts education organizations interested in applying for Creative Europe cooperation project funding

Location: Online

Apply here

About the Course

Funding the Arts is a training program tailored to performing arts organizations and non-profits in arts education looking to explore European funding opportunities. With a focus on the "European Cooperation Projects" funding line under Creative Europe, this course equips participants with the tools to develop strong proposals that promote innovation, creativity, and access to culture at a European level.

What to Expect

Participants will gain:

- Insights into the Creative Europe programme and opportunities for arts organizations.
- Practical knowledge of application procedures, budgeting, and formalities.
- Guidance to develop and refine project ideas.
- One-on-one feedback on project applications.

Timeline

- Session 1: December 18 – Discovering the programme and the application form
- Session 2: Early January (TBC) – Brainstorming project and partnership ideas
- Session 3: Late January (TBC) – Refining project ideas

Fees:

RESEO members: €80

Non-RESEO members: €150

About the Organizers

RESEO is a European network for arts education and creative learning with a focus on opera, music, and dance. The network facilitates Erasmus+ projects and fosters community-driven cultural initiatives.

Materahub is an international cooperation hub based in Matera, Italy, dedicated to turning ideas into action through training, skills development, and creative collaboration.

For more details and to apply please visit RESEO's website.

Image Credit: RESEO