Literary art Diary

Literary art Diary is a creative initiative that links cultural institutions with creatives to rethink culture as an open space without limits.

The aim is to offer a technological innovation to the educational system that give students the opportunity to come closer to paintings, theater plays and books in a post-covid world where access to culture will be limited. Students come closer to art while they reinforce writing skills and cultural knowledge. Besides its focus on creative writing helps them to reduce anxiety and other emotional problems.
