

Visual Arts | Design & Fashion | All Europe Countries | International | United Kingdom | Open Call

Rhodes Art for Global Impact Residency 2025

Applications are now open for residency with the Rhodes Trust, culminating in an exhibition at Rhodes House, Oxford. It is open to UK and international artists whose work explores social justice and pressing global issues. The theme for the first year is "Radical Joy";

Application Deadline: October 16, 2024

Organizer: Rhodes Trust

Who is it for: Visual artists, architects, designers, and makers of all levels

Benefits: £15,000 grant, exhibition at Rhodes House, and participation in workshops

Apply here.

About the Call:

The Rhodes Art for Global Impact Residency offers artists a chance to engage with the global Rhodes Scholar community and produce meaningful work that reflects the Trust's values. This year, the residency invites submissions based on the theme "Radical Joy." Artists working across mediums—painting, sculpture, textile, digital art, etc.—are welcome to apply. Selected artists will participate in workshops, digital tutorials, and events, culminating in a major exhibition at Rhodes House in Autumn 2025.

Application Details:

Applicants must submit a proposal that aligns with the residency's theme. UK and international artists are welcome.

Artists will need to be available for two visits to Oxford in January and September 2025, with travel and accommodation provided by the Trust.

Read more and apply here.