The Czech theatre streaming platform trying to save an industry

CREATIVESUNITE

Co-funded by the European Union

The new Czech streaming service by the name of Dramox, presents some of the best theatre productions Czechia has to offer. In doing so, the platform aims to give back to the struggling industry, while providing Czech theatre goers with a much-needed fix, and maybe even bring over some new, younger fans.

In partnership with some leading Czech theatre houses, including Dejvice Theatre, Na Jezerce Theatre and the South Bohemian Theatre, Dramox will showcase historical, contemporary and critically-acclaimed productions, with the founders promising new additions every month.
