

Performing Arts Research / Surveys All Europe Countries Ukraine Open Call

The Moving Borders survey

CREATIVESUNITE

Co-funded by the European Union

The Moving Borders project develops tools for dance and cultural organisations to facilitate exchanges between forcibly displaced artists and civilians within the local social and cultural contexts.

Moving Borders is an EU-funded project that aims to provide dance and cultural organisations with tools to facilitate exchanges between forcibly displaced artists and civilians within local social and cultural contexts. The project also explores issues around the inclusion of newcomers and being responsive to new challenges brought by the cross-border movement of people.

Survey for organisations

Has your organisation participated in solidarity actions in support of Ukrainian artists and civilians since February 2022?

The project partners invite you to take part in the mapping exercise and complete the survey below to help inform the project's tools and activities. The survey will remain open until 10 May 2024.

You can access the Survey here

Research Team

Ukrainian dance artists: Yana Reutova (based in Prague, Czechia), Anna Kushnirenko (based in Bassano del Grappa, Italy) and Rita Lira (based in Paris, France)

Researchers: Monica Gillette – dramaturg, Luisella Carnelli – impact researcher, Karina Buckley – dance writer

CREATIVESUNITE

Co-funded by the European Union

Partners: Yvona Kreuzmannova (Tanec Praha Festival, Czech Republic), Giacomo Bianchi and Rosa Zambelli (Arte Sella, Italy) and Elisabetta Bisaro and Arina Dolgikh (La Briqueterie CDCN, France)

Partners

Aerowaves coordinates the Moving Borders project in partnership with Arte Sella, La Briqueterie CDCN, and Tanec Praha, with support from the European Union's Creative Europe programme.