Time to Act | Two Years On Event

The British Council and On The Move will publish a more in-depth Europe-wide research on the barriers that disabled artists and audiences experience, with responses from artists and policymakers.

Two years on from the groundbreaking Time to Act report, British Council has commissioned On the Move, the international cultural mobility network, to conduct a follow-up report looking further into the knowledge gaps in the cultural sector that contribute towards inequalities for disabled artists and audiences.

This new report reveals data-led insights into the accessibility, inclusion, international mobility and professional development of disabled artists in the European performing arts sector, as well as the progress made over the past few years. The report combines a regional focus, covering all the countries participating in the EU's Creative Europe programme (as well as Switzerland and the UK), with more detailed analyses of the progress made in three of the countries where Europe Beyond Access has operated – namely, Italy, Poland, and Sweden.

In this live online event the research team will share the key research findings, and disabled artists and policymakers will share their responses to the report.

Access

This event will have International Sign and BSL (British Sign Language).

Live captions will be provided, including options to translate into French, German, Italian, Polish, Serbian, and Spanish.

About Europe Beyond Access

The report is part of Europe Beyond Access, co-funded by the Creative Europe programme of the European Union and aiming at supporting disabled artists to break the glass ceilings of the contemporary theatre & dance sectors. The core partners of the project are British Council (operating for this project in the UK and Poland), Onassis Stegi (Greece), Holland Dance Festival (The Netherlands), Kampnagel (Germany), Per.Art (Serbia), Skånes Dansteater (Sweden) and Oriente Occidente (Italy).
