Together Alone | A Finnish Cultural and Academic Institutes' initiative

Through Together Alone open call, The Finnish Institutes' network sought artistic proposals related to the state of emergency, radical change, resilience, artistic practice in the future. At the same time the project acts as a documentation of one of the major social upheavals, gives the artists an opportunity to reflect it through their work, rethink ways of outreach and develop new practices.

The aim of the open call was to ensure the livelihoods of artists and the continuity of international collaboration and dialogue. Although mobility and physical encounters were restricted, the aim was to keep supporting international networks and cooperation. Together Alone gives a platform and encourages professionals to consider new ways of operating in a situation, where physical mobility and contact are no longer possible.
