Youth Peace Ambassadors | Open Call We Make Art Training Program

Applications are open until 31st of January 2023.

The idea is to discover concepts on peace, various forms of violence, conflict, peace building, culture of peace and human rights.

But also to understand the importance of peaceful social participation with the focus on art as a tool to bring change in local and international communities.

In the end the participants will create a common booklet "Drawing for Peace" and building four really loud local actions in our local communities!

The aim of the project is to equip young artists with peace-building and human rights education skills to address issues that are a threat to peace, especially in unprecedented times like a war or a global pandemic.

Objectives:

- To develop an understanding of concepts of peace, peace education and human rights;
- To explore the links between peace education and art;
- To develop the competence to design, run and evaluate a peace education activity by using creative artistic tools and methods;
- To empower young artists to express themselves online and in one local event per participant country in order to reach a wider audience;
- To empower youth to take initiative in times of crises to promote common values and keep the human spirit up through art;
- To strengthen the YPA network and promote peacebuilding and human rights activities reinforced with artistic tools and methods.

By joining you are committed to taking part in both trainings.

This is a project with 2-training activities. The activities (trainings) will take place in:

- Guriezo, Spain - 14 to 21 of April 2023

- Evian, France - 3 to 10 of July 2023

Profile for participants:

- People involved in arts, activism, visuals, digital skills or other creative formats.
- Young people with artistic skills.
- Youth workers and leaders interested to learn more about creative methods used in peacebuilding and human rights education.
- Young people who believe in positive changes in their communities; are committed to self-development; and are seeking innovative and creative solutions to economic and social problems in their communities.

You will be reimbursed for your travel to France and Spain to the limits established officially by the European Commission in the Program Erasmus+ Guide 2023. If you choose green travel (coming to Spain by train, for example), the organisers will try to support you with higher reimbursement.
